Turn death of Thos. H. Stockton, D. D., of Philadelphia, is announced. He was a minister of the Methodist Protistant Church, and at the early age of 25 was in 1833 and again in 1835, and still more subsequently in 1860 elected chaplain to the American Corgress. Hsi eloquence was of the highest order and clicited the wonder and admiration of the greatest statesmen of the Union. As a pulpit orator he has been rarely surpassed. We cannot refrain from elipping from the Lynchburg Virginian the following glowing extract from one of his Sermons. It is radiant with the genius of true gratory: "The universe may dissolve as a dream;

"The universe may dissolve as a dream; but what shall impair the faithfulness or pervert the justice of God? 'I wait for the Lord, my soni doth wait, and in His Word do I hope. My soul waiteth for the Lord, more than they that watch for the morning. The priest in the temple, the invalid on his conch, and the prisoner at his window, watch for the morning : the sailor, the suldier, and the hunter, and how many more, and with how much anxiety, all watch for the morning. The traveler, especially, gone up the day before, and cowering all night among the summit snows of the Andes, the Alps, or the Himalayas, how bravely be wairs, and how intently he watches, for the morning! He hopes without a prompe! Bu, does the sun disappoint him?—Never! At a certain hour, the black zenith grows blice again, the of John Quency Adams, of Mas-sachusetts.

If but a few of the things done in our day had been done in the days of the Republic, they would have caused the American consclence to shudder with the wildest alarm. Now here has case which may be ranked with Harrison of West Va., and the unconstitutional erection of a Supreme Court by the monarch of Tean. We do not know cratic success, would be almost sure, in the | that Harrison lives in property wrenched by partisan legislation from those who paid for it, but it is interesting to those of us who desire to look up and behold the fall of our country, to ponder and remember cases like the following :

McVeron vs. Ucperwoop .- The case of McVeigh against Underwood was before Chief Justice Chase in Richmond four month's since, and the Plaintiff's counsel submitted their argument. Owing to the family effliction of Mr. Coundler, counsel for the United States, for the benefit of Underdo justice and show morey in his course to wood. Judge Chass extended dum. three you.
